Web + Audio Conferencing

Connecting people and keeping them informed has never been so simple. Kinetic Business Audio, Web and Event Conferencing goes far beyond traditional conference calling. With this conference platform, you can quickly and easily organize a conference at any time. You can also make your remote meetings more productive by using Audio or Event Conferencing in conjunction with Web Conferencing to add visual components to your conference.

FEATURES:

Accommodates up to 150 audio participants and up to 3,000 web and event audio participants.

Flexible joining options for participants.

Ability to upload presentations and other documents to the web for conferences.

Billing codes to track conferences by department or person.

Options for post-conference summaries and online reports.

BENEFITS:

Start a conference at any time without an operator to set up a time or a conference number.

Connect with clients through audio and web conferencing in a cost-effective way.

Conference securely with assigned codes to lock unwanted individuals from entering.

Share presentations live to participants who are not in the room.

> With Kinetic Business, you'll have the tools to manage your participants, secure your meetings, and record your conference— all from your telephone keypad.

To learn more about Kinetic Business, visit kineticbusiness.com